

Common Framework for Networked Personal Health Information Statement of Support

Consumers need to be full participants in modern health information tools and services to help them prevent illness, communicate better with clinicians, understand costs and treatment options, make better health decisions, and take better care of loved ones.

The Markle Connecting for Health Common Framework for Networked Personal Health Information defines a set of practices that, when taken together, can enhance consumer participation and protect personal information.

AARP	Consumers Union	National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship
Aetna	Dossia	National Committee for Quality Assurance
Allscripts	DrFirst	National Partnership for Women and Families
American Academy of Family Physicians	FollowMe	National Quality Forum
American College of Cardiology	Geisinger Health System	NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital
American College of Emergency Physicians	GenesysMD	Northwest Health Foundation
American College of Physicians	Google	Pacific Business Group on Health
American Medical Association	Health 2.0 Accelerator	Palo Alto Medical Foundation
America's Health Insurance Plans	Health Care For All	Partners Healthcare System
Association of Cancer Online Resources (ACOR.org)	Health Level Seven	PatientsLikeMe
BlueCross BlueShield Association	IEEE-USA	Prematics
CareGroup Healthcare System	Intel Corp.	Surescripts
Carestream Health Inc.	InterComponentWare Inc.	U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
Center for Democracy and Technology	Intuit Inc.	Vanderbilt Center for Better Health
Center on Medical Record Rights and Privacy	Keas Inc.	Verizon
Cisco Systems Inc.	McKesson/RelayHealth	Visiting Nurse Service of New York
Computer Sciences Corp.	MedCommons	Wal-Mart
	Medical Group Management Association	WebMD
	MedicAlert Foundation International
	Metavante
	Microsoft Corp.
	National Breast Cancer Coalition	